

INSTRUCTIONS

Anirudh Bhargava – INTACH Environmental Award

Introduction and Eligibility

1. The Anirudh Bhargava – INTACH Environmental Award has been instituted in the memory of his son by Dr. Ranjit Bhargava, INTACH Life Member and is facilitated by a grant. The award is for “Exemplary contribution to the protection of Environment/Natural Heritage through steps to stop environmental destruction or contributing to regeneration” and the work should have been done in the last 05 years and the tangible benefits achieved should be highlighted. The award can be to an individual or Organization. It can include:

- a) Environmental campaigning
- b) Environmental beneficial projects
- c) Protection of natural resources
- d) Documentations of natural resources in remote areas

Format and Procedure

2. There is no particular format for submission of the award application. However following is to be kept in view:

- a) It should not be a self-nomination
- b) It should be clarified if the nominee is an individual or institution
- c) The work should be in the broad field of environment
- d) Recognition of the work by other peers, media, and authorities - testimonials may be provided
- e) The work should have been sustained over a couple of years
- f) The work should be described (campaign, project, public interest litigations, awareness), its significance and impact
- g) Self-certification that the work has not been previously awarded
- h) Account in which prize money will be deposited - in case of an organization the account should not be in the name of an individual
- i) Signed Application for Award to be sent by post (due date 28 February 2017)
- j) Nomination must be received through a Chapter Convener.

Award

3. The Award consists of a cash grant of Rs.50, 000/-, a memento and a citation and will be awarded on the occasion of the World Heritage Day; 18th April 2017. The nominations are adjudged by a committee comprising Member Secretary, INTACH and subject specialists.

Last Date

4. The last date for receiving the nomination is 28th February 2017.